

Applications of TEG and ROTEM in Critically Ill Patients

SCCM Michigan Chapter Spring CE Program

Tuesday, 3/28/23
6:45-8:15 PM EST

Registration link:

Zoom Link:

Lawrence Diebel, MD, FACS
Professor of Surgery
Wayne State University

Gina Hurst, MD
Clinical Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine
Henry Ford Hospital

Program Objectives

- Describe how the results of both TEG and ROTEM can impact management of a bleeding patient
- Evaluate current practices and existing literature supporting use of TEG and ROTEM in critically ill surgical patients
- Identify opportunities for use of TEG and ROTEM in non-surgical critically ill patients

Event Timeline

6:45 PM - Vendor booth
7:00 PM - Board member introduction
7:05 PM - First speaker
7:30 PM - Second Speaker
7:50 PM - Q&A with speakers
8:00 PM - Vendor booth

Registration Fee

SCCM Michigan Members - Free
Other Attendees - $25

*Follow twitter.com/SCCMMichigan for a Live Chat during the event

MICHIGAN CHAPTER
SOCIETY OF CRITICAL CARE MEDICINE